NOT TO ASSASSINATE WILSON CHARGED BY POLICE OF HOBOKEN TO GERMAN RESERVIST; TWO BOMBS ARE FOUND

ARREST THREE SAD TO PLAN BOMB VIOLENCE

Fritz Kolb Reported to Have Confessed to a Conspiracy Against President's Life and to Blow Up Oil Works and Munitions Plant

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)
HOBOKEN, N. J., March 5.—An alleged plot against the life of President Wilson has been uncovered, according to detectives here.
The baring of the plot, they say, came with the arrest today of Fritz Kolb, a German reservist from Mexico, in the Hoboken Hotel, where he roomed, two bombs have been found which, the police say, were to be sent to the President tonight.
Kolb, when questioned, is said to have confessed to a conspiracy against the President's life and to have implicated others.
The police say he confessed to having taken part in causing the Black Tom Island and Kingsland explosions, both of which did huge damage.
On information said to have been given by Kolb, two others have been arrested—one here, the other in Jersey City—both alleged to be Kolb's accomplices.
The police are investigating the alleged ramifications of the plot, which are said to include the destruction of oil works at Tampico, and the blowing up of the great munitions plant of the Remington Arms Works here.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—Extraordinary precautions have been taken today to guard the President.
His carriage, wherever he has moved, has been surrounded by troops, squads of police and numerous secret service men, all keeping the most vigilant eye on the crowds. The personal guard around the President is remarkably large.
Along the tops of buildings throughout the line of march in the inaugural procession today, and all through the crowds, were scattered many police and detectives and more secret service men.

JAPANESE VESSEL HERE STIRS RUMOR OF MEXICAN MOVE

That Francisco Villa is "at the gates of Honolulu" was the unconfirmed report that was circulated along the water front this afternoon, some talking it as serious and circumstantial and others smiling. It was undoubtedly started by the report that recently came from El Paso to the effect that the rebel leader had left the west coast of Mexico for Japan or Korea.
A man who was aboard the steamer this morning said that he saw the face of the Mexican and it certainly bore a striking resemblance to the pictures of Villa he had seen.
At 3 o'clock the steamer was still outside and it was said she would not be in until after 4 o'clock.

Mystery surrounds the Japanese steamer Kotokoro, off port early today.
From the fact that she comes to Honolulu direct from Manila, Mexico; that she is not carrying a pound of cargo, also that she has on board

SENATE UNANIMOUSLY SENDS BILL FOR PROHIBITION INTO COMMITTEE

By unanimous vote the senate this afternoon referred Senate Bill 33, the prohibition measure, to the judiciary committee for a report on its legality, to be filed not later than Wednesday afternoon.
During a speech on the question, Senator Chillingworth declared he will take the question to the polls at the next election, conducting a personal campaign in its favor. He did not want the bill's legality questioned, and asked that the matter be deferred until tomorrow so that further and minor amendments might be added to it. Personally, he believes the bill will stand any test, and he was willing to see it debated today.
Senator Coney wanted further time and suggested Wednesday.
Senator R. W. Shurtle advised thorough study of the bill and said he believed from his talks with the liquor interests that they desire to insure the legality of the measure now pending.

The Gerard party, it was reported last week, would not reach Cuba until March 8 or 9.

WILDER CASES ARE DISMISSED

An order was made in the supreme court this morning dismissing the year-old injunction suits of A. A. Wilder versus the public utilities and others, and A. A. Wilder versus Governor and Lucius E. Pinkham and others in the well-known expense affairs of Charles R. Forbes.
The order followed a motion for the dismissal of the suits by Charles T. Wilder, administrator for the late A. A. Wilder. One case was for the purpose of enjoining J. N. S. Williams, A. J. Gignoux, Charles R. Forbes as members of the public utilities commission; J. H. Fisher, auditor; Charles J. McCarthy, treasurer, and Charles R. Forbes from paying a bill of $612.79, to Forbes. The other case was to enjoin the governor, auditor, treasurer and Forbes from paying a bill of $98.55 to him.
The case was an appeal from the decision of Circuit Judge Stuart.

"BABY" SUBMARINES SEEN SOUTH OF SCILLY ISLANDS?

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)
LONDON, Eng., March 4.—The failing strength of the German submarine campaign was shown again yesterday, when only one vessel was reported to have been sunk in the war zones. This is the Greek steamer Proconessus bound for Greece with a cargo of American wheat.
Vessels which have recently traversed the waters south of the Scilly Isles report having sighted "baby submarines"—small craft of a new type. So far the effectiveness of these submarines has not been demonstrated.
A report from Panama last night denied the various rumors that have been in circulation that the Germans have established a submarine base in the Gulf of Darien.

Roosevelt Stirs Oyster Bay; Will 'Adopt' Belgians

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)
NEW YORK, N. Y., March 5.—After listening to a ringing address by Col. Roosevelt, citizens of Oyster Bay today decided to adopt an entire Belgian village, containing 2400 children. They plan to contribute $2,400 a month to support the needy people of the village.

SOLDIERS GUARD WIRELESS PLANTS

A party of outing seekers who planned an overnight trip to Waimanalo, via Koko head and the Makapuu lighthouse last week, with the evening to be spent at the lighthouse and a short stop at the wireless station, were surprised and disappointed because the United States government had interfered with their plans.

It was learned that an effective guard of 25 soldiers had the wireless station under the closest watch will, no chance for anybody to approach it, and that the lighthouse was under similar guard. Even an army officer who attempted to approach one of the places had been turned back, it was told, because he did not have the proper authority to cross the lines.
W. P. S. Hawk, manager of the Marconi wireless branch in Hawaii, said this morning that soldiers have been at the Koko head and the Kahuku plants of his company ever since the diplomatic break with Germany, on his request. At Kahuku about 50 cavalry men are doing the patrolling.

FLOODS MENACE SOUTHERN STATES

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)
ATLANTA, Ga., March 5.—Heavy floods threaten large sections of Tennessee, Alabama and Georgia, while portions of Arkansas and Louisiana are also menaced. The rivers are rising rapidly and flood reports indicate that the heavy rainfall in the Northern states and the melting of the snow fall have combined to make the usual spring flood earlier this year than customary.

Many streams are already out of their banks and hundreds have been driven from their homes and forced to seek refuge on the high lands. No loss of lives has been reported as yet, but the property loss has been very heavy already and threatens to become more so.
By standing on a little drygoods box and kicking it out from under him Yung Cheu Yon committed suicide this morning by hanging after knotting a rope about his neck. His body was discovered in a little tenement house off of a small lane on King street, across from Desha lane. The victim was 58 years old, a laborer and has no known relatives here or in China. Sickness was the probable cause of his act. The county will bury the body.

12 Senators, Led By Stone, Win Filibuster

Manifesto By 76 Repudiates
Action of Small Minority;
President in Stinging Comment Shows Chagrin at Inability to Carry Through His Legislative Proposal

(Associated Press by Cable)
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—A caucus of the Democratic senators has been called for tomorrow, and then will be discussed a fight for a "cloture rule" to check senate debates, hold them within certain bounds, and prevent "filibustering" or prolonging debates to defeat measures.

(Associated Press by Cable)
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—When the 64th congress expired at noon yesterday without a vote on the "armed neutrality" bill in the senate, Senator Hitchcock, supporting the President, declared that 12 men had defeated the wishes of the majority of the senate in "the most reprehensible filibuster" in history.
President Wilson yesterday signed the naval appropriations bill and others passed in the final hours.

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—Twelve senators led by La Follette and encouraged by Senator Stone of Missouri, chairman of the foreign affairs committee of the upper house, and the man supposed to have been closest to the President in the present crisis with Germany, balked every effort of the members to meet the demands of the moment and defied the President and the majority through 26 hours.
Senator Hitchcock, who throughout the fight had been backing the ad-

Wilson in Bitter Words Criticizes Men in Senate Who Balked His Plans

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—Deploping the filibuster in the senate by means of which the measure which would have enabled him to arm American merchantmen against the murderous attacks of German submarines was defeated at the last minute of the last session, President Wilson immediately after taking the oath of office in the President's room of the Capitol, issued a statement yesterday dealing with the situation, and hinting at an extra session of Congress to deal with the international situation.
It was the action of a few senators, he declared, that balked the plans of the administration and made it impossible for him to proceed with the arming of merchantmen, and he added that he believes that the senate "should amend the rules at a special session on Monday in order to take the necessary action to meet the situation."

No Disclosures of Policy
He did not disclose his policy regarding the arming of merchant craft. In his statement the President said in part:
"The termination of the Sixty-fourth Congress by constitutional limitation disclosed a situation unparalleled in the history of our country, or perhaps in the history of any government in the history of the world. Certain I do not now recall such a situation in history."
"The nation is in the immediate presence of a crisis fraught with the most subtle and far-reaching possibilities, yet Congress is unable to so act as to enable the government to meet that menace, to safeguard the citizens of the country and to vindicate their rights on the high seas."
Calls Opponents "Wilful Men"
"In that Congress there were more than 500 out of the 531 members, who were willing and anxious that such steps should be taken. They were ready to act; ready to give to the administration the power to act for the good of the nation, but a little group of senators, wilful men, utterly indifferent to the right, men who do not represent the opinion of their constituents, who represent no opinion save their own, have rendered the great government of the United States helpless by a contemptible trick."
"Their action has been contemptible. The senate has no rules by which debate can be brought to an end. It has no rules by which dilatory tactics such as these senators have adopted, can be brought to naught. This lack, based upon the belief that the senator needed not the rules that might hamper a lesser man, was traded upon by these men, with the resulting paralysis of all legislation and the tying up of the executive branch of the government."

"There were sales of Cubas during the week amounting approximately to 100,000 tons on British commissions at 4 cents f.o.b. Cuba.
"No new advices have been received from Cuba as to the situation there.
"May options closed at 5.58."

OPENING NEW TERM, PRESIDENT IN ADDRESS SAYS AMERICA'S STAND 'MUST BE FOR PEACE'

Takes Oath, Marshall Also---Notable
Speech Deals With International Crisis and Senate Filibuster

(Associated Press by Cable)
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—Officials close to the President said yesterday, following the expiration of Congress without passing the "armed neutrality" bill, that the United States will arm merchant ships, despite the inaction of Congress.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—One of the first acts of President Wilson today was to refer to his legal advisers some doubts as to the power of the government to arm ships in the absence of direct authority by Congress. A decision is expected by the attorney general at an early date.

Wilson Says Family of Nations Must Stand For Democracy Ideal

(Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 5.—President Wilson took the oath of office, at the beginning of his second term, at 12:45 today. Vice-President Marshall preceded him a short time. The oath was administered to the vice-president at 12:02. Mr. Marshall was inaugurated in the senate at this time.
The President took the oath in public and before a large gathering, and immediately delivered a notable address before a crowd which packed the plaza on the east front of the Capitol.
The President touched vigorously upon international issues. He declared that there is now no turning back from the tragic events of the last 30 months, which, he emphasized, have brought to Americans a new responsibility as "citizens of the world."
He declared anew that America must stand for peace, for national equality in matters of right, and for the stability of free people; that the seas must be free for legitimate commerce; and that the family of nations shall not support any government not derived from the consent of the governed.
Sounding a solemn warning against factional intrigues which might "break the harmony or embarrass the spirit of the American people," he called for America to be "united in feeling and in purpose, and in its vision of duty and opportunity for service."
At the conclusion of the address the President led the inaugural procession to the White House, where it passed in review. There was a notable gathering of officialdom at the White House also, and the wives and families of high officials and resident diplomats.

German Papers Now Print 'Plot' News; Reventlow Denounces Zimmermann

BERLIN, Germany, March 5.—The censorship which has hitherto prevented public comment in Germany on the revelations of the Zimmermann proposals for a German-Mexican-Japanese alliance has been lifted.
While some papers have received the news of the German-Mexican intrigue with comparative indifference, others have denounced the policy of Minister Zimmermann. Among those which denounce the plan is the Tageszeitung. In its columns von Reventlow, the famous writer, criticizes Zimmermann's policy.

German Attack at Verdun is Failure

PARIS, France, March 5.—A violent attack by Germans at Verdun failed today under French fire. The Germans obtained a footing north of Carreux wood but were driven out and the German losses were heavy, says an official French statement.
The French government has summoned Germany to reply without delay favorably on proposition for a reciprocal treatment of prisoners of war. France made the proposals and is now awaiting an answer. Through the plans it is hoped to ameliorate the condition of the prisoners in their camps.

Submarines Report Sunk Many Ships

BERLIN, Germany, March 5.—Two submarines have returned to their bases with news of large destruction of hostile shipping, according to the admiralty.
They report that they sank 15 steamers and seven sailing vessels, aggregating 64,500 tons.

Sea Takes Toll of 11 To Try 'Dash'?

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)
OCEAN CITY, N. J., March 5.—Eleven members of the crew of the steamer Yammacraw were drowned today while attempting to assist the oil tanker Louisiana, which had grounded on Little Gulf shoals.
It is known that great quantities of supplies and provisions have been taken on board these vessels, and that 200 sailors have returned to them for duty, since the announcement of the "relentless campaign."
It is believed here that the provisions are destined for submarines which are to begin an active campaign in the Pacific ocean as soon as the supplies reach them from this coast.
Gen. Bell, in command of this section of the border, has issued orders to all sentries to shoot to kill any aviators who may attempt to fly over any of the border fortifications.

FINE AND IMPRISONMENT FOR HEEDLESS CYCLIST

Driving heedlessly and without a license came high for Harry Peterson. He pleaded guilty to the charges in police court this morning and was fined $75 and sentenced to two days imprisonment. Peterson dashed past a street car which was discharging passengers on King street, near Auld lane Sunday and injured Ah Sap and John Kalua, the latter so seriously that he had to be carried to the witness box this morning.
